EXPLANATION

Definition of Credit Hours: The hour, which is the unit of credit given in the College, is the equivalent of a subject pursued one period per week for one semester of approximately eighteen weeks. Thus, a course valued at two credit-hours will normally meet two hours per week for a semester.

Vocational Courses: In general, the vocational college classes are conducted on a three-hour, five-day week basis providing 8 hours' credit each semester with the remainder of the day being spent in related college courses.

Course Numbers: In general, the courses with small numbers are the beginning courses. The number of hours of credit given for a course is indicated after the title and explanation of each course. The small letters indicate the semester or semesters in which the course is usually offered; "f" designates a course offered in the fall semester, and "w", the winter

Schedule of Courses: The schedule of days, hours, and rooms for the 1955-1956 sessions will be issued as separate bulletins in advance of the various sessions.

ARTS AND SCIENCE COURSES

The courses listed below are accepted toward the A.B. or the B.S. degree and also are used in satisfaction of the requirements of those professional schools requiring two years of liberal arts work for admission.
